

State Senator, Tom Allen who in private life doubles as publisher of the weekly Brimley Citizen put a bill in the Arkansas senate Tuesday to cut "dry" counties out of the share which their schools are now receiving from the sales of alcoholic beverages.

Allen figures it would mean an extra million dollars a year for the schools of "wet" counties — but of course it would play hob with school budgets in the counties which lost it.

In simple justice Allen's bill should pass, perhaps it will; there is a powerful array of voting power in the legislators from Little Rock, Fort Smith, Hot Springs, Pine Bluff, El Dorado, Camden, and the other "wet" areas — meaning, of course, towns of considerable size, industry, energy, and charitable spirit.

For the life of me I can't feel sympathetic to the school folks over whom this economic axe now hangs. Seldom do school directors or teachers ever speak out in a local option election; they have temporized with the public interest and let counties be voted "dry" without a protest, figuring that the legislature would be charitable and not throw them off the liquor-tax gravy train.

The only time the organized school folks ever made a fight of it was when the last state-wide prohibition referendum literally pinned their backs to the wall and forced them to support the "wet" side — the alternative was a crippling financial blow.

When are the public schools of Arkansas going to face up to the liquor question and tackle it with the same common sense that school folks have in the states where the schools have a "dry" and the teachers are well paid? You always hear about how much the teachers get over yonder, but it takes some hard-bitten character like your editor to report to you how much states get the money with which they work such wonders.

Nearly a third of the states make liquor a publicly-owned monopoly, known as the State Dispensary. Profits of the state-owned stores — there are no private ones — go into the state treasury, to be distributed to state and local units of government, one of the most important beneficiaries being the public schools. The South has some notable State Liquor Dispensaries thus operating, in Alabama, North Carolina, and Virginia. Their people are probably just as moral as the people of the most pious "dry" county anywhere — the difference is that they have a better perspective on public policy, a leadership that produces action instead of bankrupt argument . . . and their schools do have money.

My information is that a State Dispensary, seizing the liquor traffic of Arkansas, would net our state probably 12 to 13 million dollars public revenue each year — with the schools getting the major slice.

It isn't half as immoral for me to speculate on this as it is for the "dry" counties to wish the troublesome liquor problem off on their neighbors and then stand up like Shylock and demand their pound of flesh. They aren't happy, of course, in their humiliation — and they wouldn't be any happier under a State Dispensary system, but at least some of the schools and public agencies of Arkansas would have a good deal more money than they now have.

And since there will always be children to be educated and poor folks to be looked after this is a major consideration regardless what your private opinion may be of the world, its people, their tastes and their habits.

Admits Banking Union Funds in Officials Name

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU

NEW YORK (UP) — The number two officer of the AFL Longshoremen's Union and the president of "Pistol Local" 824 admitted today that he put union money into his own bank account.

Patrick (Packy) Connolly, executive vice-president of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), told the state crime commission that it "never occurred to me to know to the penny" the state of the local's finances. He later explained that he had put the local's money in his own account because "some times there was a deficit for months and otherwise we'd have no bank account."

NEW YORK (UP) — More waterfront workers went before the state Crime Commission today for questioning about fantastic criminal operations charged to leaders of the longshoremen's union.

Courtroom spectators listened in near disbelief yesterday as a former dockworker testified he had been privy to the plots of two international longshoremen's association (ILA) local officers and three public leaders who he charged conspired at bank robbery, casual murder and plain and fancy rackets ranging from numbers to grand larceny.

The men he named run the North River piers where the world's greatest luxury liners dock on regular Trans-Atlantic schedules.

Four More Red Jets Downed by Americans

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

SEOUL (AP)—Outnumbered American Sabre pilots today blasted at least four Communist MIGs from North Korean skies in the second straight day of furious air battles, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Three MIGs were damaged in the clash between 10 Sabres and 20 Red war planes. Additional claims of one MIG destroyed and three damaged are pending confirmation.

The Sabres destroyed seven MIGs and damaged three yesterday without the loss of a plane. Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, sent a message of congratulations to his pilots, calling it "a most appropriate way to celebrate President Ike's inauguration."

Citizens of Redland Plan Improvements

Thirty men and women attended the Rural Community Improvement Program at McCaskill this week, in the school building.

Gordon Prescott, acting chairman presented County Judge U. G. Garrett who told about the road improvement to be done in McCaskill and Redland Township during the coming year.

Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, explained the Arkansas Rural Community Improvement Program that is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Arkansas Power and Light Co. Mrs. Blackwood pointed out that the objective of the Arkansas Rural Community Program is to encourage and stimulate rural families of Arkansas to work together in organized groups so that a system of farm home and community management may be developed which will:

(1) Develop and improve a sound system of farming, resulting in higher incomes and standards of living (2) develop a home that is wholesome and satisfying for each individual and (3) create community mindedness and action of programs for social, economic educational and religious activities.

Some of the goals discussed by the group were to repair and improve mail boxes and clothes lines; yard improvement; getting the machinery parking area moved to the rear of the front area; and cleaning of fence rows and road ditches. Other goals are to be set up at later meetings.

McCaskill and Columbus are the two communities in Hempstead Co. organized in the Rural Community Improvement Program. Any other communities interested in getting organized in the program are asked to contact Mr. Blackwood or the County Extension Office in the courthouse.

Jury Hearing Dierks Case Dismissed

J. P. SMITH (AP) — Federal Judge John E. Miller has dismissed — subject to recall — Grand Jury investigating the $285,000 shortage at the Bank of Dierks, Ark.

The jury, which started its investigation of the case Jan. 4, hasn't returned any indictments.

Miller, in dismissing the jurors yesterday agreed that more information was needed.

U. S. District Atty. R. S. Wilson said last night resumption of the investigation "depends upon how rapidly certain other aspects of the case can be developed." He didn't elaborate.

Tuesday night, however, Wilson said the investigation may take months and hinges upon how long it will take auditors to complete work at the bank.

Only one person has been arrested in the case so far. She is Mrs. Opal Simmington, 49, the former assistant cashier at the bank. She has been charged with making false entries in the bank's ledgers.

The shortages at the bank were first discovered last August.

Mrs. Simmington told the Associated Press last month that she would tell her "full story to the Grand Jury." She has said that she was only a "stooge" in the matter and that someone else has the money.

Mrs. Simmington appeared before the jury Jan. 9 and was not recalled.

The FBI said Mrs. Simmington did not cooperate in its investigation of the case.

Hometown Gives Truman Big Welcome

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., (AP) — Harry S. Truman welcomed home in roaring receptions that moved him to the verge of tears, began looking for work today lest idleness lead him into "devilment."

After nearly eight responsibilities at a time of world crisis, he suddenly found himself with nothing to do but unpack and find a job.

Harry Truman, ex-President of the United States, is a restless man who has been working 17 hours a day at the White House in Washington, and he's already worrying how long he can "take it easy."

"It's not hard work that gets a man into trouble," he told reporters. "It's the lack of it. When a fellow has nothing to do he gets into devilment."

Chinese Claim B-29 Downed Over Manchuria

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's No. 2 boss charged today that a U. S. B-29 Superfort violated Manchurian skies Jan. 12 and was shot down by Communist night fighters.

U. S. Far East Air Forces confirmed the loss of the bomber but asserted it was 12 to 15 miles inside North Korea — well below the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria — when crippled.

"The B-29 transmitted a 'mayday' distress signal and it is assumed it was shot down at that point," said an official PEAR announcement.

The Reds alleged the B-29 was shot down nine miles northwest of Antung, big Communist airbase across the Yalu from Northwestern Korea.

Peiping radio broadcast the charge and an angry protest by Red China's premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai. It quoted him as saying 11 crewmen, including a colonel and a major, were captured and that three other crewmen "died after parachuting."

Chou is second only to Mao Tse-tung in the Chinese Communist regime. Broadcasting his protest — which came on the heels of an earlier propaganda charge — underlined the importance the Reds attached to the accusation.

"The Chinese people are furious over this violation of our skies," Chou was quoted. "The American government . . . has planned dangerous preparations to enlarge the war in the last two months."

Convicts Still Hold Hostages After 4 Days

BELLFONTE, Pa., (AP)—Five officers of Pennsylvania's National Guard arrived at Rockview state penitentiary today amid rumors that soldiers would join state police and prison guards in a united effort to end the four-day rebellion of 325 prisoners.

State officials declined to comment on whether a force of guardsmen would be brought to the riot-prison. Nor would they reply to questions as to whether a move to storm the barricaded cell block where the men are holding out is being considered.

The move followed shortly after rebel convicts, holding six prison guards as hostages, offered to exchange one of the hostages for another guard.

Earlier an ominous calm hung over the prison with the convicts sitting light in their barricaded cellblocks.

More than 100 heavily armed state policemen and 90 prison guards stood ready to storm that stronghold should state officials decide that action is necessary.

One of the rebel convicts called the prison office over the telephone communication system and offered to exchange any of the guards they held as hostages for another man.

Wilson Reported Preparing to Sell His Stock

By JOHN L. STEELE

WASHINGTON, (UP) — President Eisenhower has not changed his attitude toward Charles E. Wilson in the Senate controversy over his appointment to be defense secretary, the White House said today.

Mr. Eisenhower's feelings were disclosed amid reliable reports that Wilson is considering selling his $2,700,000 General Motors stock — which senators say he must do in order to be confirmed.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave reporters a flat "no" answer when asked whether Mr. Eisenhower had changed his attitude towards Wilson. He brushed aside requests for amplification.

Hagerty said the President had one telephone conversation with Wilson since the two talked at length at the Inaugural Ball Tuesday night.

Mr. Eisenhower has not formally submitted Wilson's name in nomination to the Senate and Hagerty said that "as far as I know" the nomination will not be sent to the Senate today.

Sabotage Likely in Runaway Train

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Tobey (R-NH) said today the case of the runaway train which crashed into Union Station here "begins to look like sabotage."

Tobey heads a Senate Commerce Committee investigating the wreck, which injured more than 50 persons a week ago today.

The committee yesterday heard two Pennsylvania Railroad employees testify someone may have tampered with the brakes — possibly twice — before the Crack-Boston-to-Washington train plunged through a wall and into the station concourse. But the train's engineer, H. W. Brower, said he would guess the cause was an obstruction in the brake air line.

Problem Facing Worried Voters Today Is What Its Like to Live Under Republican Rule

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — To the poor man's philosopher:

"Dear Sir: 'I am a young man who doesn't remember what it is like to live under a Republican administration. My problem is — what to expect? How should I act? Personally, I am a Democrat, but a number of my young Republican friends are in the same plight. They have no memory of what life is like under a GOP regime. 'Have you any etiquette tips for us? (Signed) Worried Voter'"

Young man, you have hit upon the problem of the hour. Tens of millions of Americans are in your predicament, including many former Democrats who voted Republican for the first time.

Naturally, everybody feels a bit uncertain. This is even true of the new Republican officeholders who are taking over the ship of state. They are in the position of a middle-aged man who hasn't touched his hand to a paddle in 20 years and suddenly finds himself in a canoe with a fat lady in the middle of a stormy lake.

The fat lady in this case is the 282 billion-dollar national debt. So don't laugh, or try to rock the boat. Republicans at this period are peculiarly sensitive. No matter how ardent a Democrat you are, wait at least another week before jeering "It's time for another change" or "Granddad says: Remember, the millennium. Go slowly. Patience does it."

Don't spend at the race-track the money you expect to save by having prices and taxes fall to the level they were at in the Harding administration. Franklin D. Roosevelt went into office promising to balance the budget, and Harry Truman went out of office 20 years later still searching for a way to do it.

Even under the thriftiest of Republican regimes it may take days and days to find a solution. The main thing to keep in mind is that when a Democrat says, "After all, what's money?" the Republican answer is "Well, it ought to be money."

That is always a big alibi of any Republican administration — trying to make money stay money. Some Democrats are afraid that life will be dull and over-serious under the Republicans.

Most Republicans just feel you can have fun doing it in a way to get you arrested. They are merely a bit more restrained than the Democrats. They prefer the dry chuckle to the belly laugh. The "zoot suit, yo-yo and bubble gum" all reached their peaks of popularity under Democratic presidents. Cloth of banker's gray, a thoughtful mien, and chess may be more in keeping with the times. If you can't understand chess, you may keep some semblance of social standing by working cross word puzzles.

And if you hear an elderly Republican grumble, "That man in the White House" — don't leap to the conclusion he is criticizing Ike. It will probably be just a momentary memory lapse.

It is going to take time even for the Republicans to get used to the fact they're in power again.

Dulles Won't Have Nothing But Loyalty

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles told foreign service employees today he will tolerate nothing less than "positive loyalty" to the nation's policies in this, its time of greatest peril.

As his first official act after becoming sworn in with other Eisenhower cabinet members yesterday, Dulles addressed a letter to some 10,000 Americans employed by the State Department at home and abroad.

He advised them to expect changes under the new Republican administration and said: "The national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns."

President Eisenhower recently stated, "This nation stands in greater peril than at any time in our history."

"The period is of a kind which places a special responsibility on each and every member of the Department of State and the foreign service. It requires of us competence, discipline and positive loyalty to the policies that our president and the congress may prescribe."

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's cabinet today plunged into its first working day amid reports that some already had departmental shake-ups in mind.

Secretary Benson, for one, was reported working on an order to Agriculture Department with the aim of greater efficiency.

Secretary of State Dulles had a staff conference and was understood to have made one or two operating decisions. They were not disclosed.

Dulles made public, however, a letter to the 16,600 American State Department employees telling them he will tolerate nothing less than "positive loyalty" to the nation's policies.

"The national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns," he said.

By and large, the pattern for the eight cabinet officers, sworn in yesterday was up-and-on-the-job early. However, none got to his desk quite so early as President Eisenhower himself.

Eisenhower was in his office at 8:50 a. m. This was 50 minutes later than the hour he clocked in yesterday, but he had a special reason for lingering in the White House living quarters. His son, Maj. John Eisenhower, was leaving on the first leg of a trip back to Korea so there was a last-minute family breakfast before the farewells.

Cherry's Fiscal Code Plan Hits Senate Storm

Truman Ordered Ike's Son Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Who ordered Maj. John Eisenhower home from Korea to see his father inaugurated as president?

The Eisenhower said they didn't know.

Today, the Chronicle's Washington correspondent reported:

Dwight D. Eisenhower learned the answer just before Tuesday's inauguration by asking President Truman:

"Sir, may I ask you a question: Who ordered my boy home from Korea? He's been giving me hell about it."

"I did," Truman said. "Just tell him that contrary old man in the White House did it."

The major was given 15 days home leave.

They Soon Grow Shy at Conferences

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The announcement that President Eisenhower will hold regular news conferences, as Presidents Roosevelt and Truman did, settles the rumor that he'd hold few or none at all.

Like Truman, Eisenhower in the beginning may put boners trying to answer too much too fast. In his early White House days Truman used to answer everything yes or no. He had to learn to be careful.

One memorable mistake was when he told a news conference he had approved a speech by Henry Wallace, then his secretary of commerce. This caused international confusion when the speech turned out to be one criticizing Truman's foreign policy.

Sometimes Truman got his facts mixed up, then had to issue corrections.

There was a time, right after he got into the Wallace jam, when it was thought here Truman might call off the news conferences. But as he became more cautious and sure of himself he seemed to enjoy them.

If Eisenhower should put his foot in his mouth, or if he thinks the reporters' questions are a little too tough on him, he may get an inclination to drop the conference idea.

He's shown small enthusiasm for news conferences. He held few during the presidential campaign and none since the election except for one in Korea where he wouldn't permit questions.

But no president, particularly a new one, can be expected to know all the answers to all the questions. He can say frankly, "I don't know, when he doesn't. Or, when he thinks it better not to answer, he can say "No comment."

Overdone, "No comment," could make news conferences useless. It must be assumed any president who holds conferences at all will answer what he can within limits of reason and security.

A president isn't doing newsmen a favor by holding conferences. Without them, he could become isolated from, and insulated against, public thinking in a hurry.

News conferences let him pump his ideas out to the public regularly, and give him the benefit of public reaction. At the same time, through the newsmen, the public can quiz him on his decisions and intentions.

News conferences are one way to keep the President and the people from getting too far apart and out of step.

Eisenhower seems to realize, before holding even his first White House conference, that he can't be expected to know in detail the answer to all the questions flung at him.

His press secretary, James Hagerty, said yesterday Eisenhower may bring into the conferences with him members of his Cabinet, the department heads, who can help answer questions.

McMath Selection Is Ruled Illegal

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 22.—Tom Gentry has ruled illegal the appointment of Dr. H. H. Willett of Independence to the State Cancer Commission. Gentry said former Gov. McMath, in making the appointment, didn't select Willett's name from a list submitted by the Arkansas Medical Society as required by law.

Arkansas, Tennessee Hard Hit by Flu

By The Associated Press
Flu—or what feels like flu—has spread into more than half the 48 states but the outbreaks so far generally have been mild. The Army, a state university, a steel company and some local officials have taken steps to combat the infections with influenza vaccine.

A nationwide survey by the Associated Press showed that the bulk of the cases are in the central part of the nation and that Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas have been particularly hard hit. Texas reported from 200,000 to 250,000 flu cases. Arkansas had the greatest number of cases of upper respiratory infections in its history. The disease was reaching the epidemic stage in Tennessee.

The Eastern and Western states were comparatively free of outbreaks, although Florida reported some schools closed to prevent the further spread of an influenza-like disease.

Seasoned wind may contain as little as 5 per cent of water in dry climates, but in wet climates it may contain 20 per cent or more.

SMART FOLKS—THOSE BUICK ENGINEERS!

They've made the 1953 BUICKS 87 ways better

THE GREATEST BUICK IN 50 GREAT YEARS
WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

OUR hat's off to the men who made the 1953 Buicks what they are—the greatest Buicks in fifty great years.

They came up with a new kind of V8 for the SUPER and the ROADMASTER — a brilliant V8 Engine with a long list of engineering "firsts."

They redesigned the V-263 Fireball 8 for record horsepower and compression in the spirited Buick SPECIAL.

They kept every inch of room in the roomiest six-passenger Sedan in America — and still shortened its turning radius considerably.

They did new wonders with the wonderful Million Dollar Ride. They stepped up visibility, comfort, handling ease, control.

And man! — what they did with getaway!

They dreamed up, designed and developed a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that whisks you away quick as a wink — and just as smooth, almost as silent.

In fact, no other car in the world gets away with all the combined quickness, quiet and smoothness of a Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Buick.

Wouldn't you like to see for yourself just how great these Golden Anniversary Buicks really are? Drop in soon—we'll be happy to do the honors.

Scout Program Planned by Area Leaders

The first meeting of 1953 of the Piney Woods District of the Cadizo Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held last night at the First Methodist Church in Hope.

Attending were: Donald Nunn, Chairman, Clifford Franks, District

Scout Executive, and a number of Scout leaders. The meeting was opened with a prayer offered by Cliff Franks. Donald Nunn announced that a tentative district calendar had been prepared for this meeting and called on Ralph Johnson to give a brief description of the proposed 1953 events. The events were discussed and adopted. Elmer Brown was called on to report on Organization and Extension. He related his success in organizing a Scout Troop in Booneville where their registration was Ralph Johnson, who is the District Scout Executive for the District.

Mr. Nunn then made his Chairman's appointments to five of the operating committees as follows: Health & Safety, Pap Mills, Camping and Activities, Guide Byrd, Advancement, pending return to Hope and acceptance, Harold Jones, Organization and Extension, Elmer Brown, O. E. E. chairman, N. E. Graham, and Leadership Training, Chester Anderson and Clyde Coffee. These appointments were officially adopted by the District Committee.

A temporary committee chairman to work with a special project, that of the 3rd National Jamboree, was named as Walter Balch. Mr. Balch is Scoutmaster of Troop 61 of Nashville and was an assistant Scoutmaster on the special Troop of Scouts who attended the 3rd National Jamboree. He has also been named as one of the adult leaders who will attend the 1953 Jamboree.

Mr. Balch was called on to relate his experiences in the 1953 Jamboree. He announced that Piney Woods District already has 12 Scouts registered to attend the coming Jamboree. The Cadizo Council has an allotment of 76 Scouts. Of this number over 30 reservations have already been placed with the Scout Office on a first come first served basis.

After adjournment by the District Chairman, coffee and doughnuts were served.

Study Way to All Fuel

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 22.—A study is being made by the Arkansas Motor Fuel Tax Commission to determine the feasibility of establishing a uniform tax on motor fuel throughout the state. The commission is currently reviewing the existing tax structure and its impact on the state's economy. The proposed bill, which would be effective by the next session of the legislature, would establish a uniform tax on motor fuel throughout the state. Court to Rule on Penalty

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 22.—The Arkansas Supreme Court is being asked to rule whether the State Revenue Department can assess a penalty of $25 per pack for possession of cigarettes not bearing an Arkansas tax stamp. The appeal is being made from an Arkansas County Circuit Court ruling denying the Department $3,000 which it sought to collect from two persons for having 12 cartons of untaxed cigarettes.

Dizzy Dean Makes Hall of Fame

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I saw all those flash bulbs go off and I thought 'Is Eisenhower here, or something?'"

But it was news photographer "shootin'" Dizzy Dean as he arrived by airplane last night. And that's how Dizzy Dean, the one-time St. Louis Cardinals' pitching great, learned he'd been named to baseball's Hall of Fame.

"Completely dumbfounded," Dizzy acknowledged. "I read I was being considered a week ago, but I never thought I'd make it. This is the highest honor ever bestowed on me — it's the greatest thrill in baseball."

"It's pretty doggone nice for an old Arkansas cotton picker to be up there with those boys. It's the happiest day of my life."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dizzy Dean, elected yesterday to baseball's Hall of Fame, is a native of Lucas, Ark. — a tiny community in Logan County.

When informed at San Francisco of the honor bestowed upon him, Dean exclaimed: "It's pretty doggone nice for an old Arkansas cotton picker to be up there with those boys."

Cards' Miller Has Them All Talking

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — When Casey Stengel and Charlie Dressen got together during the recent World Series, who do you think they were discussing? The St. Louis Cardinals.

"Wait until you get a look in spring training at this Miller (Stu Miller), the Cardinals' young right-hander," exclaimed the Brooklyn Dodger manager. "He's the damdest kid you ever saw. He doesn't have a fast ball to speak of, but he has 20 different varieties of speeds. He ties himself in knots when he throws, you never know where the ball is coming from. When our guys had their first look at him, they licked their lips and ran for a bat. They came back muttering to themselves. You never saw a ball do so many tricks."

Casey and his New York Yankees undoubtedly will see a lot of the 25-year-old right-handed Miller this spring as the world champion and Cardinals will play five exhibition games. The Yankees also will see several other young St. Louis pitchers who, according to Manager Eddie Stanky, will make his Redbirds a strong contender for the National League pennant.

"We don't have a Roberts or a Spahn," said Eddie, "but we have the finest young pitching staff in the circuit. And in Alpha Brazil and Eddie Yuhas we own the best bullpen in either league."

Miller was a sensation after coming up from Columbus in August. He started with a 1-0 triumph, and went on to hang up a 6-3 record, posting a 2.03 earned run average, the best in the league.

Harvey Haddix, a little 27-year-old left-hander, came out of the service in time to register a 2-2 mark but burned in an excellent 2.79 ERA, striking out 31 batters in 42 innings. Mike Clark, up from Houston, had a 2-0 mark.

First Radio Program

The first known radio program in the United States was broadcast on Christmas eve, 1906, from an experimental station at Brand Rock, Mass., and was heard within a radius of several hundred miles according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
